NOTES

- Flynn is entering his first season playing for the Aces and comes to the ABL with six seasons and over 100 games of MLB experience between the Kansas City Royals and Miami Marlins, including as recently as 2019, and nine total seasons pitching professionally.
- Flynn signed with the Texas Rangers ahead of the 2020 season and struck out eight batters in six spring training appearances, while recording a win, pitching to a 1.50 ERA and holding opposing hitters to a .100 batting average. He elected free agency on 14 July 2020 after not making the 60-man roster for the 2020 MLB season.
- Drafted by the Detroit Tigers in the seventh round of the 2011 MLB Draft out of Wichita State University in Kansas, he was traded to the Marlins in July 2012 and made his MLB debut the following year, starting four games for Miami in September 2013.
- Following the 2012 season, he pitched in the prestigious Arizona Fall League for the Phoenix Desert Dogs as one of 23 future big leaguers on the team.
- Prior to the start of spring training in 2017, Flynn suffered a broken rib and three fractured vertebrae after falling through the roof of his barn, only pitching in 1 MLB game that season.
- Following the 2019 season, Flynn was selected for the United States national baseball team in the 2019 WBSC Premier 12, appearing in three games and striking out one batter.

NOTES

- Kines is entering his first season playing for the Aces and second in the ABL, after leading the league in earned run average last season while pitching last year for Adelaide. He previously pitched two seasons of Minor League Baseball and four in independent ball.
- A native of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, Kines pitched in the Miami Marlins organization in 2015 and the New York Mets system in 2017 before his successful season with Adelaide.
- The left-handed pitcher led all ABL pitchers last season, with an earned run average of just 1.50. That mark ranks 9th all-time for single season ERA among qualified pitchers in the ABL's 10 seasons. His 42 strikeouts last season ranked 10th in the league, with a .217 opponent batting average (4th ranked) and 1.17 WHIP (8th ranked).
- Originally a 36th round draft pick by the Miami Marlins out of Mount Olive College in 2015, where he studied sports management, Kines pitched in 23 games across his two minor league seasons and struck out 62 batters in 68.2 innings, with an impressive 2.36 ERA.
- Beyond his time in the Minors and ABL, the 27-year-old has established himself as one of the top pitchers in the independent Frontier League. In four years with the Schaumburg Boomers, he is the team's all-time strikeout leader (350).
- Prior to the 2020 season, he had signed to pitch for the Somerset Patriots in the Atlantic League, though the league's season was cancelled due to the COVID-19 Pandemic.

NOTES

- McGrath is entering his seventh season playing for the Aces, with experience of seven seasons in the Boston Red Sox organization.
- He returns to the Aces after a hiatus during the 2019/20 season due to a mystery illness (not undiagnosed COVID-19) and comes back as one of the most experienced pitchers in team history, as his 39 games pitched are 3rd-most in club history.
- The 26-year-old left-hander had a breakout season in 2019, as he was named a MiLB Organizational All-Star for the Red Sox after the conclusion of the season, the Double-A Eastern League's July 2019 pitcher of the month and a two-time Minor League pitcher of the week with the Double-A Portland Sea Dogs.
- In the Melbourne native's most dominant campaign in Boston's system, he posted a 7-1 record and 1.98 earned run average in 29 appearances, including 16 starts. The success earned him a non-roster invitation to Red Sox spring training in 2020 and he pitched in two games before MLB spring training ended prematurely due to the Coronavirus pandemic.
- McGrath pitched in the Red Sox system for the last seven years and reached Triple-A Pawtucket in 2019, setting him one promotion away from reaching the Majors, though he became a free agent on 2nd November 2020.
